THE HOME TOWNERS
THE GREEN LIGHTS ARE ON IN McKINNEY AND COLL.N COUNTY

▶ YOUR Home Towners have a letter from Polly Snapp Roper, former resident of McKinney, asking that we change the address of the Daily to Charleston, S. C., where they are stationed. Polly's husband is Commander George Roper. Part of the letter states: "I think your ideas on the City Coliseum are wonderful and do hope that something will be done about it. Thanks, Polly, and Your Home Towners hope something can be done about it, and Your Home Towners Have this to say:

If pressure is put on the Mayor to build this muchly-needed auditorium, as there is to get someone fired at th City Hall, we might get it done.

"It's a lot better to build than it is to tear down."

▶ YOUR Home Towners would like for Otho Nicholas, McKinney's new Chief of Police, to know that these papers are ready and willing to co-operate 100% with him for law enforcement. Otho paid high respect to former Chief Alex Burks on his ability as an officer in tracking down thugs, bootleggers and law violators and for the system that has been installed at the City Hall. A larger portion of the citizens of McKinney do not want these petty tin-horn gamblers to start, the baseball ticket sellers to start, the booleggers to take over.

Under the leadership of Chief Burks and his men, McKinney is known far and near as one of the cleanest towns in Texas. Chief Burks was highly respected by the FBI as an investigator and worked with them very closely when called uon. We know that Chief Nitcholas will continue along these lines. The days and nights will be long, Chief, but Your Home Towners have confidence that you can and will do the job. Let's keep the Green Lights On In McKinney but let's also KEEP THE RED LIGHTS OUT.

▶ SEE WHERE 'Big D" wants to build a lake on the East Fork of the Trinity below Lavon Reservoir. And Rockwall County has lodged a protest with Mayor R. L. Thornton. Most of your readers have still fresh in your minds the "Story of the Trinity River Bill" and what Your Home Towners preached and preached about it in this column. Dallas needs water and must have it regardless of who it hurts and what it costs, and we folks in Collin County almost go sucked in on a plan of forced taxation for the benefit of Dallas water supply. We hope we are out of it but, as we have told Sen. Roberts and Rep. Benton, stay awake, because the city boys will trade you "peanuts" for coconuts."

▼ ▼ ▼

▶ THE FOLLOWING letter was received by Tom and Pete from a newspaper woman of Garland and we quote:

"Dear Tom and Pete:

"I know you are aware of the shortage of law enforcement officers in Collin County and consequently, the shortage for patroling Lake Lavon.

"I'm afraid that unless Sheriff Floyd Williams is provided with more funds for hiring more officers, there are going to be many unfortunate things occur at Lake Lavon before this summer is over.

"The crowds up there on the dam side of the lake are terrific now. In fact, on Saturdays and Sundays, parking places are hard to find. Thousands are already visiting there each weekend.

"We would greately appreciate your using your column if you agree that the need is there, to assist Sheriff Williams in his request for more funds. We think you would be doing an excellent service not only for the people of Collin County but for the thousands from other counties who visit there.

"Incidentally, I would like to commend you on your articles about the need for a municipal auditorium in McKinney. I feel sure that you will see this dream realized in the near future.

"Seems that now days, the newspapers have to prod public officials into action before the committies they serve can get anything done.

"Thanks very much.
Sincerely,
SUE STINSON

Sue, we certanly agree with you and we know that our County Judge and Commissioners Court will do everything possible to help this muchly-needed situation at Lavon. Unless we do have good law enforcement people will not visit this great area for fun and relaxation. With good law enforcement we will be assured that the THUGS will not take over.

And relative to the portion of your letter regarding the muchly needed Auditorium—thanks for the comments. This is another project that is LONG PAST DUE and one that will pay in dividends for a future progressive McKinney.

Harris Funeral Home Is Completing New Remodeling Program

The Harris Funeral Home, located at 202 West Louisiana Street has recently undergone remodeling and redecorating of the building, throughout, as well as outside improvements.

The already attractive brick structure, has an entirely new entrance, the former porch having been enclosed and taken into the main reception parlors.

The front has black wrought-iron trim, and the entrance is canopy-covered from the door to the street.

Several partitions were taken out of the building in the enlargement program, and the floor covered with carpeting. The business offices have asphalt tile floors with chrome and leather furnishings.

The large reception hall, which leads to the chapel, is beautifully furnished in Early American maple, blending with the chosen color motif of green and dusty rose. The tex-toned walls are a matching shade with the floor covering while colors, which blend with the decor, are used in the floral draperies and upholstery of the furniture.

The chapel has been enlarged, and new pews are being added as well as new church furniture. The building is equipped with a public address syseem, which has two microphones and six speakers, all of the speakers being out-of-view, and located that a service may be heard from any part of the home.

When there is no funeral service, soft music is played throughout the day, including classical and semi-classical selections. Preceding a service, religious music is played from the automatic record player.

Music for the service is provided by the Hammond organ, with Mrs. Kathleen Harris, one of the proprietors of Harris Funeral Home, as organist. The building is air-conditioned for year-round comfort, with refrigerated air cooling in summer, and central heating for cold weather.

A new family room, assuring the bereaved ones complete privacy during a service, has been added, and is decorated in the chosen motif with green carpeting, papered walls in scenic design, and solid green ceiling and woodwork. The furnishings here also are in maple. The room also serves as a reposing room, when needed for that purpose.

The spacious building, as mentioned above, may be thrown open to care for as many as 300 people, if necessary, or may be closed by the use of modern folding doors.

Other improvements include rearranging the display room, redecorating the rest rooms, and installation of a refreshment bar which is handily arranged for making coffee, or providing cold drinks. This convenience affords refreshment to persons who often visit the home during the evenings, but is also open to other visitors.

The second floor of the Harris Funeral Home provides living quarters for the personnel, with three apartments.

Mrs. Kathleen Harris and son, Ramsey Harris, who for many years have successfully operated the business, are assisted by Dick Horn, licensed embalmer and funeral director; Bill Enloe, apprentice embalmer and funeral director; Gerald Gaulden, D. E. Student of Boyd High, who works afternoons and nights; Sid Williams, insurance salesman, and Mrs. Ramsey Harris, office assistant.

The Harris Funeral Home is the home office for the Harris Funeral Service Insurance Company which is owned by Mrs. Kathleen Harris and Ramsey Harris.

Included in the remodeling program, has been the building of additional parking space, which is available when a service is being held in the chapel. The grass lawns and flower beds have been removed, and the entire East side driveway has been solidly concreted, to care for extra cars. Arrangements for other parking space nearby, have been made.

Mrs. Harris and son, who are regular users of advertising space in the Daily Courier-Gazette, are extending a cordial invitation to the public to call by their newly-decorated establishment and see the many attractive and convenient improvements which have been made.

Construction Of Cabell Minit Mkt. To Begin Soon

Construction will begin immediately on the first Cabell Minit Market in McKinney, the 42nd one in the Northeast Texas area. According to present plans, the store will be completed by the latter part of June. Location is at the corner of Church Street and Highway 24.

The Cabell plant has been located in McKinney for a number of years. During 1954, it turned out well over a million gallons of ice cream, along with all the butter, cottage cheese, d'Zert, and ice cream novelties distributed by Cabell's all over North, East, and West Texas. Distribution is through the Cabell Minit Markets as well as through other stores.

The new McKinney Minit Market is part of Cabell's overall expansion plans for 1955.

At the beginning of the year, plans were in work for 15 new Minit Markets to be opened in and around the Dallas area.

"This expansion is in keeping with our over-all policy to bring the people in this area the finest dairy products, frozen foods, produce, fresh meats, ice—and a far wider selection of stapie grocery items," Earle Cabell, president of Cabell's, Inc., explained.

"Also, it brings them the added ease and convenience of drive-in grocery shopping at popular prices," he continued.

The McKinney store will feature complete grocery shopping in modern, deluxe facilities. It will be open 7 days a week, from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.

A special grand opening is scheduled for the latter part of June.

Camp Fire Girls To Restore Tree-Life By Planting Seedlings

Golden-rain seedlings are the answer of Wichita, Kans. Camp Fire Girls to the blight which has robbed their community of much of its tree-life.

The seedlings, hardy specimens started last fall by Wichita's Camp Fire membership, were transplanted in wholesale numbers throughout the area this spring as 1500 conservation-conscious junior citizens embarked further on their 10-year "beautification" campaign.

Life magazine will tell the story of these "Precocious Planters" in its May 2 issue, on the newsstands today.

The article relates details of the many-faceted civic project which is in keeping with the Camp Fire tradition of service and the organization's special 1955 citizenship theme "Let Freedom Ring!"

Camp Fire Girls, now celebrating its 45th year, is based on a program of "learning by doing." The oldest youth organization in the United States serving the leisure time needs of girls seven to eighteen, it is open to members of every race, religion and economic status.

Mrs. Michael Connatta has returned to Los Angeles, Calif. after a visit with Weston relatives. She came to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Joe Frair.

Pee-Wee League Boys Signed Up Monday

Tryouts for the City Youth League, a baseball league for boys 13, 14 and 15 years old, will be held this evening at the Jaycee Recreation Center at 5 o'clock. H. D. Mouzon, president of the Pee-Wee League, will be on hand to sign up boys interested in the League. The Jaycees will sponsor the City Youth League, all games to be played at the Jaycee field.

President Mouzon signed up 131 boys from 8 to 12 years old, Monday evening at Quarterback Field in Finch Park. The Pee Wee League is composed of six teams, sponsored by the American Legion, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs, V. F. W. and Quarterback Club.

The League could use two more sponsors to care for the large number boys, and urges any organization, willing to sponsor a team, to contact President Mouzon. The sponsoring group submits $200 which pays the expenses of the team through the summer schedule.

This program was begun here last summer, creating interest throughout the city. It is planned to have a bigger and better League this year, and from the results of Monday afternoon's meeting, the outlook for a successful season is good.

The managers of the teams will meet one night soon to draw for teams and assignment of boys. Every boy who signed up will be assigned to a team after which the managers will conduct their workouts. As soon as the drawings are held rosters, and other information, concerning the first workout, will be published in the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

Junior Awards At Flower Show Are Announced

The real highlight of the recent flower show staged by the Willa Largent Garden Club was the junior entries.

The dish gardens made by the Cub Scouts were splendid. The judges, Mrs. F. G. Scott and Mrs Robert Talley of Denton awarded first place to Den 5, Pack 291 entitled "Camping Out." Wayne Lowe took second with his "One Mile Mesa," and Den 2 Pack 291 in third place with "April in the Great Southwest." All of them were very clever and several got honorable mention. One den of Cub Scouts entered pot plants they had decorated with artificial birds and butterflies. Mike Payne and Donnie De Colaines were awarded ribbons.

In the division entitled Storyland for campfire girls up to 10 years of age, two blue first ribbons were awarded to Kay Forsyth for "Snow White" and Betty Boyd for "Jack and Jill" Second went to Patsy Smith for "She Sells Sea Shells" and third to Linda Ball with "Alice in the Land of Living Flowers."

"Make Believe" was the section for the girls 10 years and over. Margaret McHhone with "The Cow Jumped Over the Moon" and Mary Beth Price with "Sunshine and Shadow" were first place winners. Cynthia Rayburn, second, with "Cinderella" and Sarah Ball third with "20,000 Leagues Under The Sea."

The Junior Garden Club winners were Sarah Ball first and Susan Atterbury second. The Littlebug Posters of this group were very origional.

Educational Exhibits are not competitive but they had some very informative features. The club is grateful to Mr. Edwin Post of the U.S. Soil Conservation for his exhibit and to Sarah Ball and the Junior Garden Club for their displays. The wild flowers on the Texas Conservation list are essestial for us all to know. One junior exhibit would have won a first had it not used the Texas blue bonnet in the arrangement which is on the conservation list.

Many proud parents and friends visited the show to see the childrens work. The club wishes to thank all the junior exhibitors for your help in making our show a high sucess and expecially the Boy Scouts for their wonderful display of bird houses showing much skill and many hours of work. Space does not permit us to mention every name of the more than one hundred boys and girls that helped us with the show but we do appreciate your efforts and thanks to the great leaders of these youth organizations and their parents.

Federal Tax On Coin Operated Gaming Devices Due July 1

The Federal tax on coin operated gaming devices must be paid by July 1, Ellis Campbell, Jr, District Director of the Dallas office of the Internal Revenue Service, said today. Among changes effected by Congress in its tax revision last fall was the advance of the filing deadline date from July 31 to the new date.

The tax, $250 per machine per year, must be paid by the owner of the business at which the machine or machines are located. An other new requirement of the law makes it necessary that both return and tax be in the hands of the Revenue Service before operation of the device is begun.

Form 11-B is the return required for pinball machines or other types of gaming devices included in the law. The tax applies whether machines themselves pay off automatically, or whether payoff is made over the counter.

...News From The... COUNTY AGENT

By V. L. DAHLBERG

ATTENTION FARMERS

Grasshoppers have begun to hatch in Collin County. The main hatching will occur within another week if weather conditions are favorable. Mr. Landrum with the U. S. D. A. Insect Survey Department reported that grasshoppers are hatching by the million in Celina, following highway 289 from Prosper to Alla

The poison used for early insects control of cotton will do an excellent job in controlling these very small hoppers. If control measures are not used as needed, severe damage will be done to our cotton and corn crops as happed last year in some cases.

Please keep an eye on the fence rows and on pasture land adjoining fields since that is their hatching beds.

If found, spray immediately.

PLAN EARLY FOR GRAIN HARVEST

While weather holds the secret to the 1955 grain crop, farmers are advised to look into the availability of storage space and start making plans for harvest.

Before deciding about storage, W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, says producers should consider their acerage and cop prospects, check for space in local commerciial elevators and onsult with loal ASC offiials.

The rush of harvest time can be eased by leaning combines trailers elevators and dump pits before harvest. Clean all empty pins and use a residual spray on walls, floors and on overhead beams. A spray of two and one-half perent DDT or methoxyhol at rates of two gallons for each 100 square feet of surface area is recommended. Spray mixtures of five-tenths percent pyrethrins also are effective.

Commercial feed and seed should not be kept in buildings used for grain storage, it reduces chances of contamination by weevils. Clean up junk piles, fence rows and wood near the granary. They may be serving as harbors for rodents. Trap or put out poison for rats and mice.

Clear away weeds and sterilize the soil around the buildings. Check buildings and bins for leaks and rodent-entrances and make repairs where necessary.

The USDA recently announced that the 1955 wheat crop must meet minimum requirements of the Federal Food and Drug Administration to be ligible for price support loans or for delivery under price support purchase agreements. This will place added emphis on keeping grain clean and free from rodents and insects.

New Cleaning Process Installed By Arthur McGhee & Son Here

A revolutionary new lint-free, cling-free dry cleaning process has been perfected by the Davies-Young Soap Company, Dayton, Ohio.

The entirely new concep in cleaning methods is now being installed by Arthur McGhee and Son. It takes lint off hubby's best blue suit, or the housewife's favorite party dress. Lint-free, cling-free cleaning also treats the garment so that lint is repelled from one cleaning to the next.

Dr. Ralf B. Trusler, director of research at the Davies-Young Laboratory, is credited with this revolutionary innovation. His solution the reason for the attraction of lint to dark fabrics.

He traced the answer to static electricity. In the ordinary dry cleaning process, small fibers are separated from the garments. They are attracted to other garments by static electricity. Wool attracts lint more than any other material, and some of the new man-made fabrics are also easy targets for lint.

Dr. Trusler neutralized the static electricity. As a result, white blankets and dark blue suits can be safely cleaned without a trace of lint appearing on either. Yes, now that sloppy, lint-laden look will be replaced by the new lint-free, cling-free look!

Jack Gossett, of Dallas, visited in Burrow community Saturday.

4-H Club girls and boys from four different communities in Collin County participated in the revue. Miss Sharon Moseley was the piano accompanist.

Mary Strickland, of Melissa, wore a short, boxy wool topper of eggshell color to match a linen straight lined dress of linen jumper effect which had an overmatching waistlength battle jacket. Mary also showed the fashion off by wearing a vertical stripped jacket with a buttoned collar and a linen jacket which made a wardrobe of five different garments with one basic dress. This ensemble was completed with accessories of a beige crochet hat and bag to match trimmed in gold braid. Mary did an excellent job in modeling.

Lou Nixon, of Melissa, modeled a frock of black and white checked denim and a white nyon blouse of organdy with a tiny collar and puffed sleeves.

Lois Kemp, of Melissa, wore a jumper of red and white checked demin with a gathered skirt for fullness with a crisp white organdy nylon blouse. It's today's best loved fashion frock from Grandma's trunk.

LETTERS FROM . . .

THE PEOPLE

The Daily Courier & Weekly Democrat:

The Press says the legislature will ask for another $100,000,000. in bonds to buy land to be sold to certain veterans, will they again fix the ballot to deceive the voter? In 1951, it adopted a resolution for the Veteran's Land Board to issue $100,000,000 in bonds to buy land to be sold to Veterans of World War II and the Veterans since 1945. It omitted World War I veterans that the U. S. had done less for. It directed that the amendment be submitted to the Texas voters on the 2nd Tuesday in November 1951.

It did not put the Amendment nor the gist thereof on the ballot but fixed this way. For the Amendment to Section 49-b, constitution of Texas for increasing Veteran's Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945" (Against est.) It did not mention bonds nor the amount of the increase. The present land Commissioner says there are 970,500 veterans eligible to the land program. If the legislature intends to buy land to sell to all veterans it will require about $100,000,000 every two years for about 18 years. Said Commissioner the interest on the 1951 bonds by 1989 would be over $47,000,000. Bankruptcy will be inevitable unless the voters vote to save Texas like the Texas founders saved Texas at San Jacinto. Is it the duty of the legislature to empty the treasury to grant special privileges to certain classes and make it easy for schemers to get much of it, and issue bond for posterity to pay 100 yrs. hence?

UNUSUAL . . . .

Seen About Town

By CAPT. ROY F. HALL

Noted Glenn Coleman, Uncle Sams mail carrier, toting his bag of mail Monday. The one thing that is impressive about a mail carrier is the fact that he carries this heavy mail sack, up to forty pounds, all the way over his route without changing it from his left shoulder. Try someting like that sometime. Bet you can't carry the weight over ten minutes without shifting it to the other shoulder.

The amaryllis at the city hall are very pretty. Guy Rambo gave them to the firemen and the boys take turns petting and coddling them. Hope this is about all our firemen have to do, by the way. It is one of about 700 species of the tropical plant. Does well here.

Two six-or seven-year-old boys riding in a baby buggy on Davis Street Tuesday, let the cart get away with one of them in it. It dashed down the sidewalk and overturned in the street, skinning the little fellows arm slightly. I stopped to see if he was hurt. Both were anvious, fearing, it evolved, that I wdould tell their mother that they had been on the street. Feeling facetious, I said, "Gentlemen, while the situation is fraught with dangerous possibilities, you may relieve your anxiety. Your seeming departure from rectitude, being wholly unintentional, shall be hence and forever locked within the confines of my ventricle." The little skinned-arm fellow smiled. "Thank you, mister, he said. And the joke is on who?

I note a government report that the cost of living dropped slightly last month. Where? I want to know, and what? It actually went up, like the preceding month. Here in our own little city, scores of mothers are having to work to help with the family income.

Sign in a McKinney business window: "Radio repeared." Wonder how they were "peared" in the first place?

Gardens are looking pretty around town. A rain is needed right now to keep all plants growing through. This is the season when we get our spring rains, and they are notable by their total absence. Our rainfall since the first of the year has been 8.75 inches. The amount we should expect is 13.50 inches. Last year we got uptoward nine inches in May and June, so maybe it will roll around again.

The family get-togethers have started in Finch Park again. Saw five gatherings there last Sunday. I have inquired, and find that this is unique to Collin County. No other county, that I have located, has them. Will someone in the picnics send in the names of the family to this paper, those that take place henceforth, that is?

Some of our youngsters in town are avid hot-rod enthusists. I believe we should encourage the boys in this. Right now they have no drag course to run their machines on. Couldn't we help them out in this? How about some of the old abandoned roads? They could be graded and smoothed over. A dirt track, straight away is all they need, a half-mile would do. The highways are, of course, forbidden to them.

Captain Joe Benton, our local representative at Austin, has put a bill through the Legislature making it illegal to kill quail and squirrels until 1958 in Collin Conty. Nimrods please note. This is a good law, as we have few quail left. The only change I would have advocated would be that no animal with hair on it be killed with a shotgun at any time. While I am a squirrel hunter myself, I am in favor of protecting the small rodents for here on out.

Collin 4-H Club Boy Wins First In District Meet

Collin County 4-H Club boys placed first in the District contest at Arlington on Saturday, April 23 in the livestock judging contest. Johnny May, Jr. was the high point individual for the entire livestock event. Other members of the team were: R. T. O'Dell and Travis Johnson. All three boys are from the Alla community and are doing an outstanding job in 4-H and FFA activities and will go to A. & M. College for the State Contest and 4-H Round-up on June 8, 9, 10.

The rifle team consisted of Jessie B. Ingram and Leo Geer, of Westminster; Bobby Willard and Frank Svoboda, of Alla, and did not place in the first three but all four boys had terrific competition by other clubs in the district. This is one of the most popular events of the Arlington Contests participated in by the 4-H Club boys.

The Dairy Team members were: Tex Monk, Gerald Lay, Buddy Beaty and H. H. Griffin and all did a very good job but were not among the top place winners.

Jimmy Hollandsworth of Alla placed third in the Tractor Driving contest in a field of about fifteen entries. His score was in the high 90's and we are certainly proud of his ability to handle farm equipment.

These teams were supervised by Sam Mann, Associate County Agent, and Mr. Virgil Dahlberg, County Agent of Collin County.

Armed Forces Day To Be Celebrated At Waco May 21

Members of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, and officials of James Connally Air Force Base, are readying themselves for the May 21 observance of Armed Forces Day.

A gigantic parade through the streets of Waco, highlighting units from every branch of the Armed Forces, will symbolize the opening of the 1955 commemoration.

"Power For Peace" will be the slogan for this Armed Forces Day, and civilian and military personnel are preparing king-sized displays to emphasize this important aspect of military preparedness.

James Connally AFB will hold a special "open house" on May 21, extending an invitation to civilians from each of the surrounding communities to inspect a military installation in operation. The day will be high-lighted with tours of the base, static displays, demonstrations, and aerial fly-overs.

Included in the fly-overs will be aircraft from each branch of the Armed Forces, Army, Navy and Air Force, including the latest jet-type aircraft. A formation of twelve Air Force B-25 bombers, the same type of aircraft in which Gen. Jimmie Doolittle raided the Japanese mainland during World War II, will be featured.

The Waco Chamber of Commerce and the personnel of James Connally AFB are working in close conjunction on plans for this year's celebration. They extend an invitation to all civilians to attend James Connally AFB on Armed Forces Day, May 21.

James Connally AFB is located eight miles north of Waco on Highway 81. Suitable directions will be posted to assist the out-of-town visitor.

Rare Century Plant Growing At Home Of Mrs. Bridgefarmer

Mrs. Thelma Bridgefarmer, who resides on Highway 24, just Northeast of McKinney, has two Century plants in her yard which cause much interest among the travelers along that highway. Two years one of the plants bloomed after reaching a height of 30 feet. The plant grew so tall, that the weight caused it to break.

This year the other plant is expected to bloom, and has already reached a height of 20 feet. Passersby are watching the plant and eagerly awaiting its bursting into blooms, which will probably be within the next week or two.

Century plants are quite rare in this section, only a few of which are found in McKinney. They bloom only once every hundred years, but the beautiful blossoms are "worth waiting for" say flower lovers, who own these rare plants.

In and Out of the Memorial Library

While everyone loves the sight of bright new colorful books in their plastic covered dust jackets on the Library shelves, few are aware of the many steps necessary in processing new books for circulation.

The first step is to check the new books against their invoice, to determine what titles arrived and what their cost is. The price, supplier, and date of acquisition is noted in each book—but not until after each book is collated. To collate a book the pages are flipped through to catch any descrepancy in the paging sequence. Not infrequently, pages are either out of order or, omitted entirely.

The next step is to accession the books, that is, listing information about the book, its cost and source of supply. Each title is given a number which will distinguish it from other books in the Library. The books are then ready for classifying and cataloging.

In classifying a book, the first step is to determine the age level for which the book is written. If a book of nonfiction, the proper class number, which will be assigned the book, must be determined with the assistance of several classifying aids in order to keep books on a like subject together. This step is frequently time consuming. Part of the same step is to determine what subject headings will be assigned the book so that library patrons may locate material on any subject in book form on the shelves of the Library by consulting the card catalog file.

Miss Dorothy Gaskill, the present library assistant and page, now takes over the task of typing the catalonging cards and book pocket sets. Always five and as many as ten cards are typed for each book. Author, subject and title cards are filed in the card catalog. A shelf list card and a book card with its pocket are for use in circulating the book.

Her typing completed, Miss Gaskill stamps each book with a property stamp in several special places, prepares a label for the spine of each book, and then measures the book preparatory to installing a plastic book jacket over the dust jacket. The installing of the plastic jackets permits the books dust jackets to stay bright and colorful until the pages have grown grubby and tired from much use.

Next, with paste and brush, Miss Gaskill installs the book pockets and date slips, and the books are ready for the shelves or the special displays of new books. Books, particularly new and timely books, are put into circulation as soon as possible. To that end then, the filing of the catalog cards and their verifying is not done until the books are on the shelves.

From the multiplicity of operations it is obvious that the processing of a book is an expensive one—the purchasing and processing variously estimated to cost 90c to a dollar per book. No wonder then, that the lost book problem is a serious one.

Miss Kerr says that fewer books lost means that available books funds can go towards the purchase of new titles, rather than towards the replacing of older titles which were lost.
